

4th and FINAL SCMPD ANIMAL CONTROL RABIES CLINIC

Responsible pet ownership means taking the time to have your pets vaccinated against the threat of rabies. The Savannah-Chatham Metropolitan Police Department Animal Control Unit is offering its third Rabies Clinic for dogs and cats for 2009.

Rabies can be 100% prevented with this simple inoculation! That is why SCMPD's Animal Control staff and veterinarian DVM D.Douglas are hosting this clinic.

WHEN: Saturday, October 24th, 2009, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

WHERE: Berwick Animal Hospital @ 5733 Ogeechee Rd. (Across from the Kroger at Berwick)

COST: Only $6.00 per inoculation

Animal Control officers will be on-hand to assist pet owners with their animals and provide a safe environment for all.

An Additional Service sponsored by Berwick Animal Hospital, will be on hand to provide low cost microchipping.

To ensure the safety of your pet and others:

- All dogs must be on a leash or kenneled, and those prone to biting, muzzled. While your dog may be docile with you and your family, they may not react well in the presence of other breeds and cats.
- Cats should be maintained in their carriers.

Folks, you can't beat these incredibly low costs, especially in today's economy!

For more information:
Lieutenant Brenda Boulware
Savannah Chatham Metropolitan Police
Special Operations – Unit Commander – Animal Control
Phone # 525-2408
Fax # 525-2470
e-mail – Brenda\_Boulware@savannahga.gov